

My darling Tola,

Both of us and our children had looked forward to this special anniversary of your birthday but God had a different plan for today.